Scope of the processing

The following information speaks of processing personal data; however, this is also understood to include collecting and storing this data.

Companies' contact details are processed for the performance of a contract or for pre-contractual measures. The contact details are also used for providing support in how to use our products and for the purpose of providing information.

The data is collected by the data processor himself.

The contact details are stored for the duration of the execution of the contract and for contacting the company in question for the purposes of product support. The storage periods are determined by the statutory periods of limitation set out in the 'BGB' (German Civil Code); these apply in each case from the last contact. The storage periods are defined by the management in consultation with the data protection officer and are based on a system for deletion.

Data are rendered anonymous if they are used statistically.

It is not possible for KOCH Industrieanlagen GmbH to fulfil contracts and to provide support without processing personal data.

Any consent which has been granted to process data within the meaning of Article 6.1.a or Article 9.2.a of the EU General Data Protection Regulation can be withdrawn at any time. Withdrawing consent, however, shall not affect the lawfulness of processing based on consent before its withdrawal.
